Method of Assessment

The method of assessment was through the use of pre and post test instruments. The following information is from data gathered from spring 2015. Assessment instruments were administered for 1 classes: AFAM 1020.01. The other two sections were taught by professors who never taught the class before and were assigned at the last minute to meet their cue requirements. The pretest score during the spring 2015 semester for AFAM 1020.01 was 52%. The post-test score during the spring 2015 semester for AFAM 1020.01 was 83%.

Plan for Academic Modification Using Findings

While the post-test scores indicate improvement for both the spring and fall semesters, there is concern about the overall meaning of the results. First, an improvement is to be expected since the students come into the class unfamiliar with the material. Second, a semester's worth of information logically results in improvement in post-test scores. The scores for the online class (sec. 51) are consistently higher than in-class. We will continue to monitor the results and see if this trend continues.

Plan for Assessment Modifications

The coordinator has discussed with the AFAM 1020 faculty how it can further enhance student learning outcomes. The AFAM 1020 faculty are currently utilizing a pre and post essay. There is still discussion about using a values rubric but the consensus is definitely to forego future use of the pre and posttest.

Resources Needed

The department has been merged with four other departments and we share a common secretary. A budget for the program is still needed to enhance instructional delivery. Since AFAM 1020 is the focus of the program's assessment, the students would benefit from field trips to museums, restaurant, movies, and plays. Furthermore, while the program has been able to bring in some speakers and provide some programs, the ability to bring in a diverse group for this course would be greatly enhanced by a budget allowing us to do so. As the program continues to develop a variety of courses more full-time faculty members are needed so the program can continue to offer numerous sections of AFAM 1000, 1020 and 3020 while expanding the overall course offerings. This has not changed since the last assessment.

Approved Changes

Other than the pre and post essay, no changes have been made to the assessment process or to the assessment instrument itself. In the future we will utilize a values rubric and continue our evaluations to see if more changes are needed in this area.

Improved Student Learning

The post-test essays reveal that most students grasped the core concepts and are able to delineate the various cultural responses to socio-political and socio-economic phenomena.

Feedback of Results
